Weather

Seattle is famous for its rain, but visitors are often surprised to find that most of our summer days here in Seattle are warm and sunny! In order to provide you with the best possible experience while staying on our campus, we'd like to prepare you for the possibility of summer temperatures reaching 90°F or higher with no in-room cooling.

Ask us about your options for beating the heat! Fans are available for a small fee at the front desk in each building, and our recreational swimming pool is popular during the summer months.
